

Cursive Handwriting for the Home Schooler

Explore the world of cursive handwriting in this hands on class focusing on letterforms, proper writing technique, and how to join letters to make words to then make sentences. Taught by an area home school mom and professional calligrapher with an appreciation for the seemingly lost art of cursive handwriting, students will be guided along and encouraged to explore writing in the cursive style. Supply fee includes an extensive educational manual for the student to use each week and keep when the class ends with exemplars, guides, and practice sheets. Ages 8-12.

About the instructor

A professional calligrapher based in Newbury Park, Kristina Virtue owns her own design studio fulfilling both wedding and corporate orders. When she's not home schooling her two young daughters, she enjoys museum visits, playing at the beach, and walking her dog. Classically trained as a calligrapher in London, Kristina brings over 15 years experience to the class to help students learn cursive and the art of modern calligraphy. You can learn more about Kristina and see samples of her work at www.kristinavirtuedesigns.com or reach out to her with additional questions at (805) 405-7032.
